

and get results.

The party for all teenagers might on the Walker playground will be under adult supervision and will include messages from important community leaders.

The sponsors hope that such activities will help guide our youngsters in accepting the added responsibilities which full citizenship brings.

In addition to providing active guidance for children, the Century club has announced plans to use proceeds from its affairs for a camp for teenagers at Arundel Ridge.

If more organizations would attack the age-old juvenile delinquency problem in such fashion, we are sure it would be relieved immeasurably.

INTEGRATION

When night drew her shades and bright stars were in the sky. The Master of Creation seemed to look down from on high. When many nooks and corners were filled with bowed heads. We had used no evil, but turned to God instead.

At first we may have hummed in a silent dreamy mood. We knew if one could help. The Heavenly Father would. Black clouds overshadowed the great decision. But we held to our aim with strong precision. And in the midst of our silent prayer. God brought Integration There.

Amen

Copyright 1964
By AMERICA C. NELSON

Our Readers Say

AN ALIBI SMASHED

Dear AFRO:

While Southern governors and some faculty members of Division II are still fuming with rage at the outlawing of segregation in our schools, forces behind the scenes are setting up battlefronts for the next onslaught from the forces of "civil rights," which will be compulsory FEPC in private industry.

Locally, the forces of civil rights have smashed three main barriers in successful sequences. The first was outlawing of restrictions and restrictive covenants in residential areas; next, the opening of hotels and restaurants to all races; and third, the 9 to 0 vote of Supreme Court outlawing segregation in the schools.

Of all the Supreme Court decisions, the outlawing of segregation in education is by far the most important.

Results from this decision will be a hundredfold but its most important function will be the destruction of the last hiding place for captains of private industry and their excuse for job bias and discrimination in employment.

Major public utility enterprises such as Potomac Electric and Power Co., Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., Washington Gas Light Co., Capital Transit Company, private enterprises such as banks, department stores, mortgage companies, small loan companies, and Government Services Insurance have long pretended that they had no objection to hiring colored in skilled and professional categories.

But their hiring policies were governed by the local social pattern as set by the Board of Education.

As long as there was a dual educational set-up, the hiring policies had to remain the same. O.K. gentlemen! Segregation in schools has been outlawed. What is your move?

W. M. FRANKLIN

CHALLENGE TO THE CONSCIENCES

Dear AFRO:

Just and charitable attitudes and conduct toward persons of other religious and racial groups are a continual challenge to the consciences of all men everywhere.

The Catholic Press Association of the United States recognizes the responsibilities of Catholic journalists to take the lead in promoting such attitudes and conduct as part of their continuing apostolate. This is important especially when difficult situations are local, national or international.

CHARLES J. McNEILL,
president
Catholic Press Association

on the water wagon. The YMCA smelled last week end as flower the lobby, and several rooms.

The occasion was a show presented by the group of the Washington and Garden Guild.

The teenage florists realization of the dream and Mrs. Evelyn O. floral artists and organ the guild.

The guild is a non-profit organization, and new members are welcomed. Go ahead take a hint!

A call for help came AFRO office for a family home was demolished.

Donations

Donations may be sent Beatrice Patter, 1310 G. Phone LI 3-6373. Their ages are 2-14.

Thumbing through book, I found a note to cruelty of inmates a jail to each other. Especially "trusties."

A man, who had just released from jail gave notes. Said it's true.

Make Complaint

I would put a M.C. this story if you have complaint to make, too.

Been to jail, lately. Hiram F. Jones, principal of Langley High School says and who visited the school took candy bars and milk.

Police are scratching heads for an explanation got one.

The youngster was. Things get very quiet.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "... Our guest of honor has established a single second hand

Courtesy of Library of Congress

AN ALIBI SMASHED

Dear AFRO

While Southern governors and some faculty members of Division II are still fuming with rage at the outlawing of segregation in our schools, forces behind the scenes are setting up battlefronts for the next onslaught from the forces of "civil rights" which will be compulsory FEPC in private industry.

Locally, the forces of civil rights have smashed three main barriers in successful sequences.

The first was outlawing of restrictions and restrictive covenants in residential areas: next, the opening of hotels and restaurants to all races: and third, the 9 to 0 vote of Supreme Court outlawing segregation in the schools.

Of all the Supreme Court decisions, the outlawing of segregation in education is by far the most important.

Results from this decision will be a hundredfold but its most important function will be the destruction of the last hiding place for captains of private industry and their excuse for job bias and discrimination in employment.

Major public utility enterprises such as Potomac Electric and Power Co., Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., Washington Gas Light Co., Capital Transit Company, private enterprises such as banks, department stores, mortgage companies, small loan companies, and Government Services Insurance have long pretended that they had no objection to hiring colored in skilled and professional categories.

But their hiring policies were governed by the local social patterns as set by the Board of Education.

As long as there was a dual educational set-up, the hiring policies had to remain the same.

O.K. gentlemen, Segregation in schools has been outlawed. What is your move?

W.M. FRANKLIN